

Teaching in the international Classroom, from a perspective of various universities

In this interactive workshop, 3 professionals (Gemma Corbalan, Utrecht University; Hubertie Kroon, Wageningen University and Siema Ramdas, VU Amsterdam) will share their knowledge and experience in training teachers who are teaching the international classroom.

Besides being introduced to the approaches these three universities take regarding the subject, participants will also have the opportunity to experience an exercise and reflect on their own teaching practice